

Woodloch Pines Resort Fact Sheet

Overview:

Woodloch Pines Resort has been family-owned and operated for over 62 years, offering all-inclusive vacations to generations of families. The fairytale-like origin of Woodloch dates all the way back to 1939 where two high school sweethearts, Harry and Mary, made a life-long pact on a little-known lake, Lake Teedyuskung, in the dense forest in the Northern Pocono Mountains. After the couple wed, the stresses of the “1950’s New York rat race” became a burden on their young family. Mary often thought about the gorgeous lake from her younger days, but her thoughts were quickly consumed by the task of raising her three children. One fine day, Harry saw a for sale listing in New York Times for a small resort on a private lake in Northeastern Pennsylvania. As fate would have it, the lake turned out to be Teedyuskung!

On that same lake from their childhood, Woodloch Pines first opened its doors in 1958. Nestled along 12 acres of shoreline with two cottages, a main lodge and no running water, a full house was comprised of 40 guests. This was Harry and Mary Kiesendahl’s home; all were welcome.

Fast-forward 60 years, the Kiesendahl’s dream has evolved into one of the premier independent family resorts in America. The Kiesendahl children and grandchildren still carry on the tradition of excellence and warm hospitality. The Woodloch mission is to “treat all guests as if they were company in their own homes.”

Woodloch sits on over 1,800 acres, offers three distinct and award-winning properties, employs over 1,300 staff members and welcomes over 100,000 guests through its doors every year. Within the Woodloch family of properties is the 18-hole championship golf course and community, Woodloch Springs, as well as sister property, The Lodge at Woodloch, an award-winning luxury destination spa. Both located within a two mile radius. The full resort (including Woodloch Pines- family resort, Woodloch Springs Golf Course and Community and The Lodge at Woodloch, destination spa), spans over 1200 acres and can accommodate over 1000 guests.
